FOREWORD...

As we glance through the pages of this book, looking at the pictures of the pupils, some newcomers, the rest familiar faces, we see young American citizens at work in the field of education.

In our great America we are given the tools with which to work toward improving education, the basis of a democracy.

Education has proven that persons with good educational backgrounds are the most likely to succeed in whatever fields they endeavor. Through instruction one is able to learn the practice of our personal freedoms . . . the right to express one's self freely, the right to worship as one pleases, and the right to engage in any lawful work.

Only can each individual consider certain standards that he must measure up to. We have to share in the responsibilities of society and this can be accomplished only through the knowledge we acquire in our educational institutions and homes.

: THEME :

Just as in the case of the birth of a human being . . . so too, when a new organization arises out of the minds and desires of the people known as its sponsors . . . the immediate need for a name presents itself.

As soon as the people of the villages of Shortsville and Manchester, together with the inhabitants of the outlying rural districts, voted to incorporate the benefits of centralization into the educational system of this area, their representatives . . . known as the members of the Board of Education . . . were confronted with the problem of giving this new school a means of identification, a name by which the school with its student body of nearly 700 and its 35 faculty members might be distinguished from similar institutions of its kind. Many suggestions were submitted and the one finally chosen was that of "Red Jacket Central School," in honor of the memory of a famous Seneca Indian Chief.

It seemed a likely choice for many reasons . . . first, because it was perfectly neutral; second, because it was less commonplace than many which were considered; third, because it was in keeping with the historical background and tradition of this community, and fourth, because it was hoped that it held possibilities of furnishing a colorful theme for many activities in which the school might wish to participate. No choice could have been made which would completely eliminate opposition . . . so true to expectations, many voiced opinions in disapproval of the new name. It appears, however, that most of the opposition arose out of a lack of knowledge, and the fact that we human beings are apt to like only those things with which we are most familiar. A reading acquaintance with our "patron saint," so to speak, should indeed add to the significance of the name by which this school will be known for years to come. What's in a Name? We believe ours has quite a heritage and that we must do it credit by maintaining the highest possible standards of educational progress.

Arch Merrill says: "Ask any man on the street or any school child to name a famous Seneca and the odds are 16 to 1 the answer will be 'Red Jacket'!" Although there were scores of warriors greater than he, and he was only a minor chief, his name has lived in history while those of the mighty warriors and chiefs have long been forgotten. For Red Jacket was a great orator. He has even been called the greatest of all Indian orators. He could hold his own as a shrewd and logical debator at the council fire or in the court room against any white man. He did this regardless of the fact that he could neither read nor write.

Red Jacket was as picturesque as his name. The white man called him Red Jacket because of the richly-embroidered scarlet coat he always wore. A British officer gave him his first red jacket for his fleetness as a messenger. After the first coat wore out, Red Jacket replaced it with another, and wore a red coat as long as he lived. Every settlement recognized the distinctive figure of this Indian. He was an erect man of medium build, always proudly wearing his red jacket and the medal that Washington had given him.

Red Jacket was born at Canoga, near Cayuga Lake, around 1750. Part of his boyhood was spent at Keuka Lake, near Branchport. As a boy he was impressed by the matchless oratory of the famous Mingo orator, Logan. He was determined to be another Logan. At home his mother would miss him from their cabin and when she asked him where he had been he would answer: "Out in the woods, playing Logan."

Red Jacket liked to match his wits with Washington's representative, Timothy Pickering, and at Tioga and Canandaigua he held his own. He often tried to make Pickering lose his temper and make some unguarded statement, and sometimes he succeeded. When he heard that Pickering had been made Secretary of War, Red Jacket said: "We began our public careers about the same time. He knew how to read and write. I did not and he got ahead of me. But if I had known how to read and write, I would have surpassed him." Modesty was not one of Red Jacket's traits.

"Had I know how to read and write" . . . let us consider the importance of these words, not in terms of Red Jacket's experience, but as they apply in the present-day world.

To be sure, in the crudest sense of the word, the great majority of Americans can read and write . . . that is, they are literate. There are still many, far too many, however, who have only the most elementary acquaintance with these two skills. The greatest challenge which the school has to meet today still lies in these basic abilities. It must train young citizens to read with comprehension and thoughtfulness, it must train them to write in such a way that their ideas and opinions may be passed on to others with clarity and accuracy. Intelligence, emanating from these fundamentals, can be the most effective instrument in attaining and maintaining World Peace and Harmony.

Board of Education . . .

Standing—M. Morris, J. Loveless, A. Doody, J. Crowther.

Our congratulations to our Board of Education on the splendid job they have done since Centralization. We are not unmindful of the problems that have confronted these men since last July. Their accomplishments in a limited time show, beyond a doubt, that they are a capable and progressive group with the best interests of the students at heart. Their aim is to give Red Jacket Central the best educational program they can and strive to make our school one of the best in the State.

The Board of Education is comprised of the following:

R. Browning Crowell, President
Albert Crowley, Vice-president
Dr. John A. Crowther
Arthur F. Doody
Charles L. Durant
George B. Glover
Alvin L. Howland
Max G. Morris, Clerk

: DEDICATION :

We, the member of the Class of 1950 . . the first to be graduated from the halls of Red Jacket Central School . . respectfully dedicate this issue of "Sa-Go-Ya-Watha" to the members of the Board of Education.

The efforts of these men collectively and individually have been tirelessly directed toward the successful launching of this new unit of centralization. Should there be anyone still sufficiently in doubt as to advisability of a change in our system as to make the query: "Why Centralize?" these men would undoubtedly have replies without number convincing enough to satisfy even the most skeptical.

Here are only a few of the advantages among the many which they evidently thought important enough to warrant the abandoning of the village school. First, in a larger school, more courses can be offered especially in the special departments; thus giving the student a wide variety of curriculum material beyond the basic requirements and an opportunity to make a choice in accordance with his ability and special aptitudes.

Secondly, extra-curricular activity can be extended, resulting in broader social contacts, heavier competitive participation, and more far-reaching cultural pursuits.

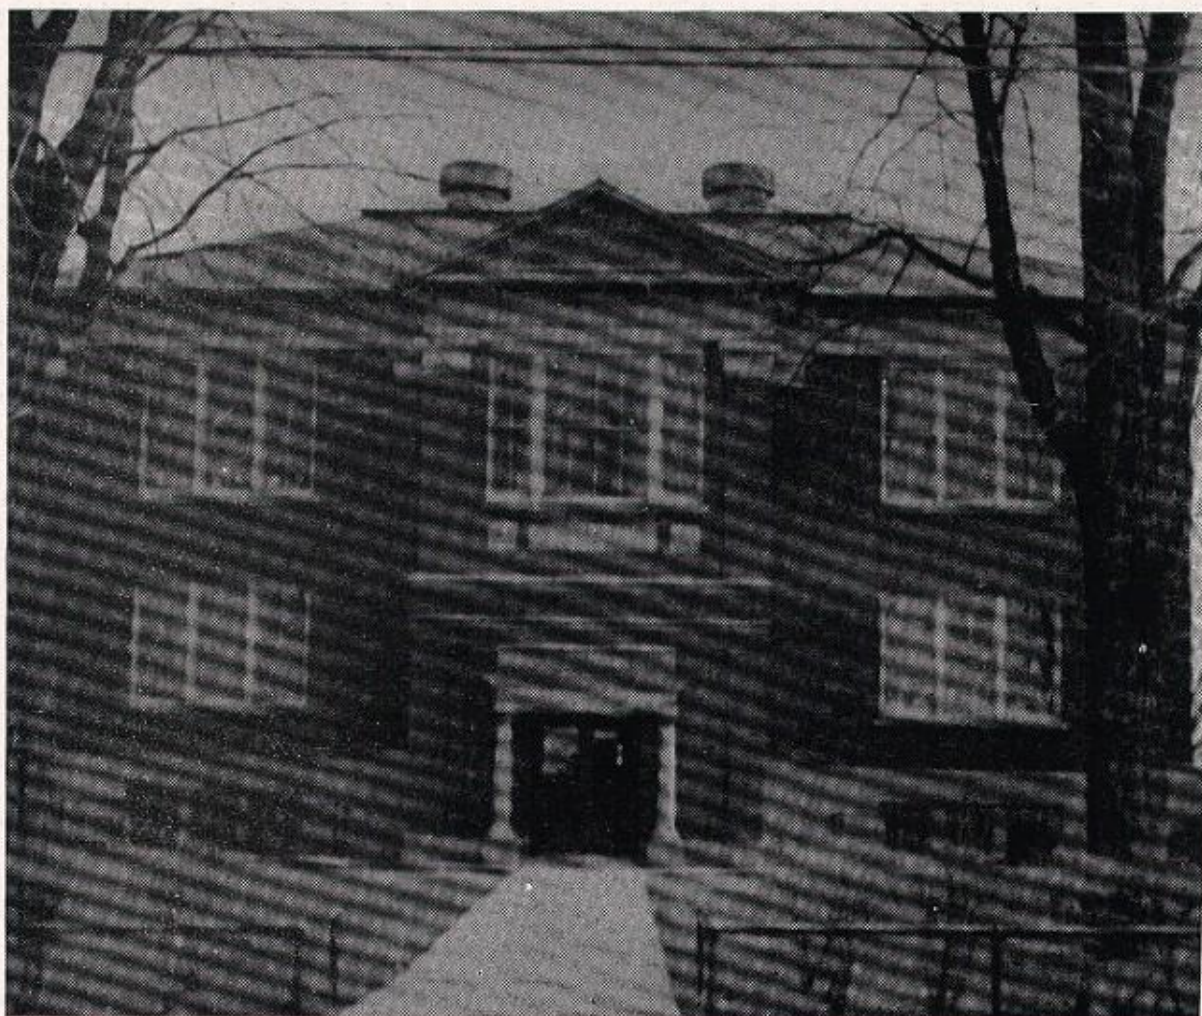

Third, the day of great distinction between the urban and rural community is past. The centralized unit which offers the same standards of education, the same school buildings and equipment, the same curricular and extra-curricular programs to the country boy and girl as to the village child is promoting a better understanding among all the component parts of a community. It establishes, not only an educational unit, but a social unit . . both of which are strong forces in the interests of citizenship in a democracy.

The willingness of our Board members to give freely of their time should be a challenge to every citizen to do his best to promote a spirit of cooperation and to participate whenever possible in the many activities which may be sponsored for the welfare of the school.

It is our hope that they may find compensation for their labors in the knowledge that the future of this community will increasingly benefit from the advantages to be derived from a modern, well-organized system of education.

Our Principal...

As we entered the halls of Red Jacket Central School this year we were smilingly welcomed by Mr. Spangle, our Principal.

All year he has ceaselessly and tirelessly helped all of us with our many problems and troubles. It is here that we sincerely wish to thank him for his numerous efforts and also his attempts to teach us to be better citizens, in and out of school.

Senior Advisors . . .

The Senior advisors, Mrs. Ruth Lamphier and Mr. Harold Contant, have had a big job to do. With Mrs. Lamphier's and Mr. Contant's guidance, the Seniors had many very successful activities. Through their patience and help they have enabled us to earn enough money for a Senior trip and many good times.

We, the Seniors of 1950, wish to thank them sincerely for their help and cooperation. Before moving to Massachusetts, Mr. Richard Spitzer was the Senior advisor. He did much toward helping the new and larger Senior class get a start, through his sincere earnestness and understanding of high school problems.

Though his stay at R. J. C. S. was short, we will always remember him for his tolerance and impartiality toward the student body.

We wish him success in his new position as Supervisor of Curriculum Studies in Gloucester, Massachusetts.

JUNIOR CLASS ...

 Second row—Miss Arnold, B. Clark, R. Remery, B. Griffin, P. Sleight, J. Schlecht, B. Hessney, P. Angeline, E. Stackwick.
 Third row—F. Englehart, W. Hessney, J. McCarthy, L. Seamens, P. Hogan, J. Ro-meiser, A. Pappert, J. Delgotto, A. Lush.
 Fourth row—H. Washburn, R. Whittaker, D. Rose, J. McIntyre, W. Warner, G. Herendeen, H. Robinson, J. Weaver, S. Whittaker.

After the thirty-one members of the new Red Jacket Junior Class became acquainted, they chose their advisors and officers. Miss Arnold and Coach Stackwick were the faithful and hard-working advisors.

President, Lawrence Hayden; Vice-president, Virginia Mallaber; secretary, Shirley Governor, and Treasurer, Hollis Robinson, were elected. Rose Remery and Joe McIntyre were the capable Student Senate representatives.

The Junior Class sponsored a successful card party. They also enjoyed a Hallowe'en party and a Christmas party.

First Row (From left)—M. Issa, N. Dawson, B. Bowe, R. Powers, P. Loury, G. Jarjoura, C. Misleany.

Second row—J. Glover, C. Gwilt, A. Ceravalo, N. Hayden, B. Snyder, J. Bonnell, M. Crowley, N. Wylie, E. Cirulli, E. Williams, E. Vanderwall, Mr. Harkenrider.

Third row—F. Carney, H. Williams, P. Christiansen, T. Christiansen, G. Johnson, W. Flynn, R. Broomfield, C. Tierney, J. Robyn, W. Van Herpe, J. DeBrock.

Fourth row—W. O'Donnell, J. Crowther, D. Bowe, W. Swartz, R. Button, H. Schlecht, E. Cole, W. Dean, J. Twenty-Five, W. VanCaesele.

We started the year last September with forty-two pupils, twenty-two boys and twenty girls. Our class has grown since then. We now have an equal number of boys and girls, twenty-two for each, or a total of forty-four. There is a majority of boys from Shortsville, but a greater number of girls from Manchester.

Nothing much in the way of after-school activities has been accomplished this year, due to other class activities. We of the Class of 1952 shall expect support from the public during our remaining two years.

First row (From left)—Mr. Barker, M. Halton, N. Cole, J. Bartholomew, P. Herman, B. Chrysler, P. Vanderwall, V. White, J. Schrader, S. Perry, Miss Diana.

Second row—A. Fairchilds, D. Dewey, S. Carey, J. Doody, R. Carney, G. Schroo, J. Weaver, N. Poillon, F. Verhoeven, S. Ellis, F. DeVelder, A. Ceravalo, L. Boisvert, G. Miller.

Third row—R. Whittaker, O. Hubert, R. Petrone, J. Cianfoni, N. Vienna, M. Gersbach, P. Lannon, E. Stambach, N. Curtis, N. Stambach, P. Dell, M. Carroll, S. Hyde.

Fourth row—L. Nudd, F. Gerlock, L. Walbridge, H. Crowley, N. Pierce, O. Lush, G. Pappert, B. VanOrman, G. Button, W. Skimaker, G. Bolan, R. Carey.

Our Freshman Class has the distinction of being the largest upper class in the school, led by the following officers: President, Anthony Ceravolo; Vice-president, John Doody; Secretary, Fred Verhoeven, and Treasurer, Norma Vienna.

The main interest of the class is to raise money for their Senior trip. The first event, a raffle, was a big success, and we hope all our future efforts to raise money will be as successful.

With the cooperation which we now have, the favorable outlook for our class remains.

SENIOR BAND . . .

If you ever find yourself walking down the sacred halls of R. J. C. S. on a Monday, Wednesday or Friday afternoon at about two o'clock, you will probably hear the gentle strains of Bach, Beethoven or possibly Berlin, as they float artistically up through the ventilator shaft and out into the class rooms

We at R. J. C. S. are justifiably proud of our Band. Having worked under considerable hardship, since the music room is combined with the cafeteria, the Band, under Mr. Robert Toft's able direction, has become a top-flight musical organization.

The sixty-five members of this group, ranging from eleven to eighteen years old, are eagerly anticipating the Spring Music Festival at Penn Yan, where they hope to prove their musical ability, and also have a good time while doing it.

With the help of the Band Boosters and Mr. Toft, the Band hopes to keep right on improving, with perfection as its goal.

CHORUS...

First row (From left)—J. Carroll, J. Bartholomew, L. Leone, J. Schrader, M. Manion, S. Manion, W. DeVey.

Second row—Miss Blake, J. Bowe, D. Walker, E. Chrysler, P. Poillon, J. McNally, D. Lush, P. Ryan, S. Betz, S. Perry, J. Reubens, Miss Ellis.

Third row—N. Poillon, G. Johnson, E. Watson, R. VanHerpe, S. Vienna, D. Curtis, H. Bellis, B. Rigglesford, S. Warfield, J. Galbraith, E. Dallachiesa, M. Halton, R. Geise, M. Bolan, P. Lisai, G. Miller.

Fourth row—J. Fitzpatrick, J. Pulling, P. Gilligan, A. Sadler, M. Turner, L. Webster, E. Miles, S. Peters, N. Stambach, A. Johnson, M. Hudson, A. Carey, D. Geise, C. Tierney, H. Sadler, R. Raymond.

Fifth row—E. Miles, G. Owens, J. Philley, M. Geise, A. Fairchilds, M. Romeiser, L. Angeline, S. Stambach, S. Hyde, H. Garnsey, H. Weitzel, M. McCarthy, R. Carey, W. VanHerpe, J. Gerlock, R. Button.

The Chorus this year has been ably directed by Miss Susan Blake, with Miss Christine Ellis as the pianist. This Chorus consists of anyone who wishes to sing. The Chorus went to the music contest at Penn Yan and did a marvelous job. We all feel that Miss Blake deserves a great deal of credit for the way she has managed this large group.

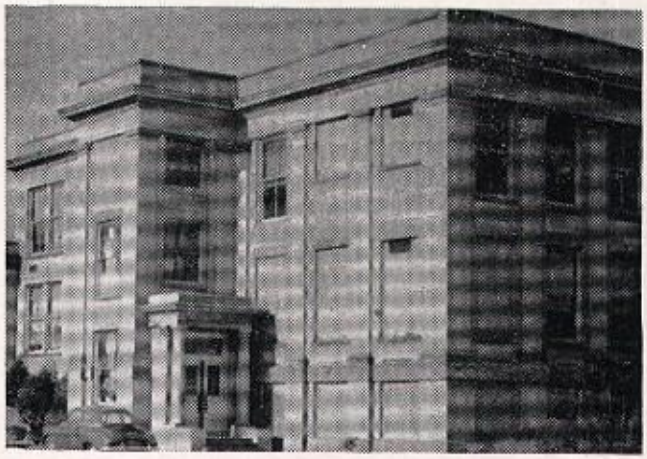

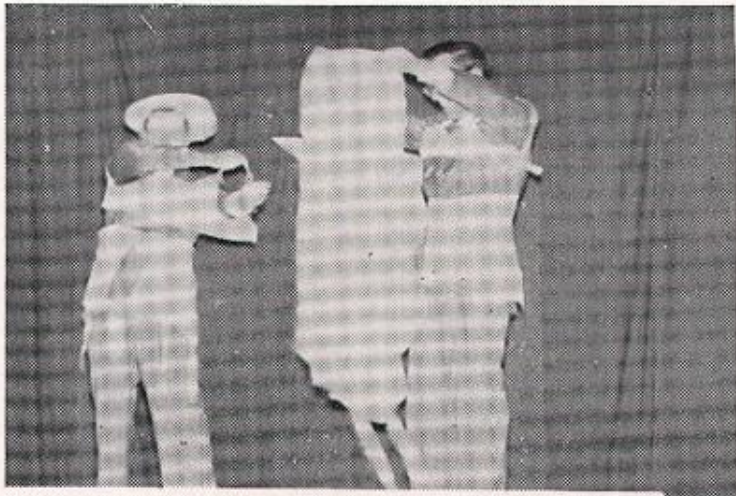

VARSAITY CHOIR...

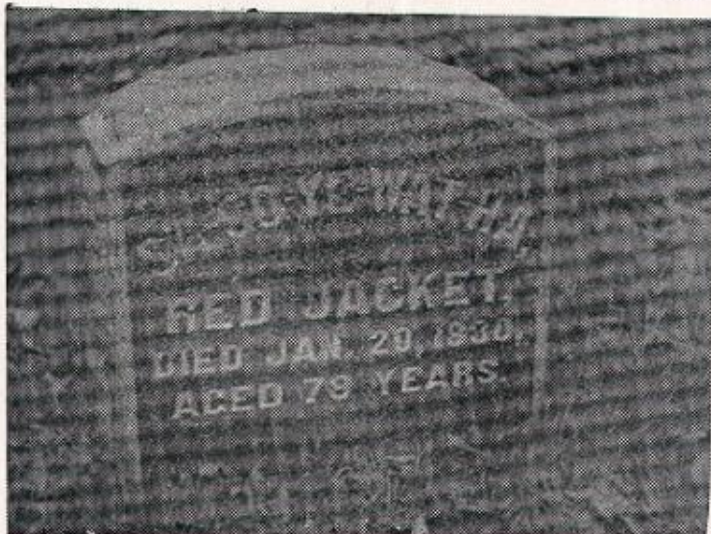

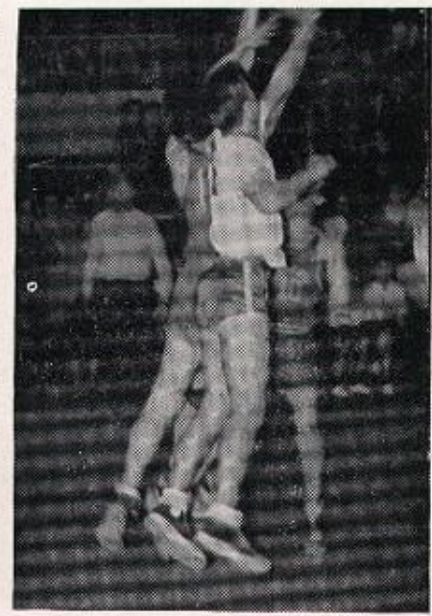

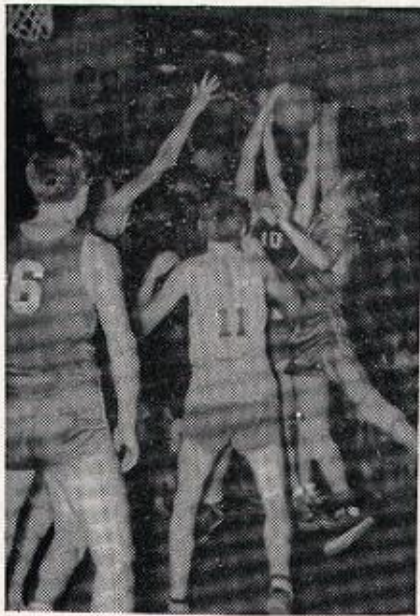

First row (From left)—Miss Johnson, R. Remery, A. Quick, W. Fitzpatrick, B. Griffin, B. Draper, P. Herman, V. Mallaber, J. Cianfoni, P. Cianfoni, N. Capron.
 Second row—T. Crowther, C. Fabiana, A. VanEtten, P. Christiansen, W. Flynn, J. Doody, N. Hogan, S. Ellis, F. Verhoeven, M. Newman, E. DeVries, D. Verhoeven.
 Third row—J. Robyn, R. Whittaker, R. Pierce, H. Williams, W. Bolan, D. Jessup, J. Crowther, D. Owens, J. O'Neill, Mr. Toft.

The Varsity Choir was selected from the high school students by Mr. Toft at the beginning of the year. Miss Clara M. Johnson has been accompanist during the year. They sang Handel's "Messiah" at Christmastime and have performed at various assemblies in other schools. They also entered the Penn Yan music contest in May.

Mr. Toft deserves much credit for the excellent job he has done with the Choir this first year of centralization, for the group impartially consists of both Manchester and Shortsville students.

CAFETERIA STAFF . . .

If you enter our school in the morning you will undoubtedly smell delicious dishes cooking. These meals are faithfully prepared by (from left) Mrs. Glover, Mrs. Boutell, Mrs. Lathrop and Mrs. Hudson.

MRS. TRAPP . . .

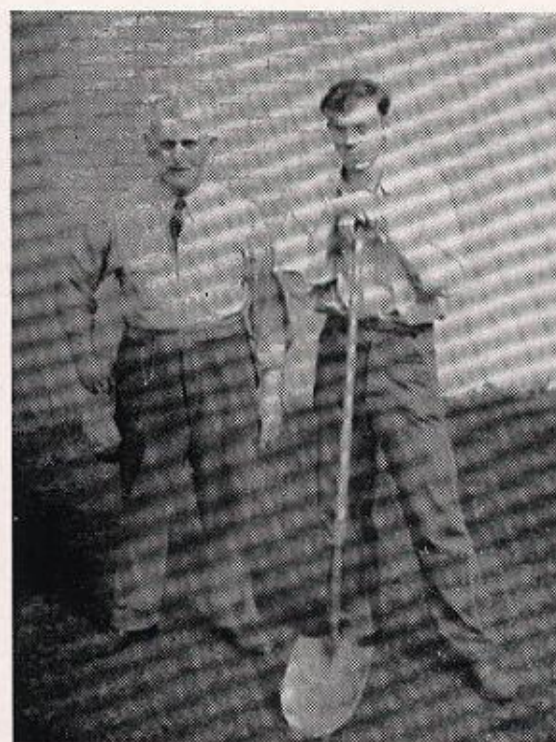

Our "Good Humor" woman, Mrs Trapp, is the very efficient secretary who handles the difficult secretarial work connected with the centralized school.

MR. ROBYN . . .

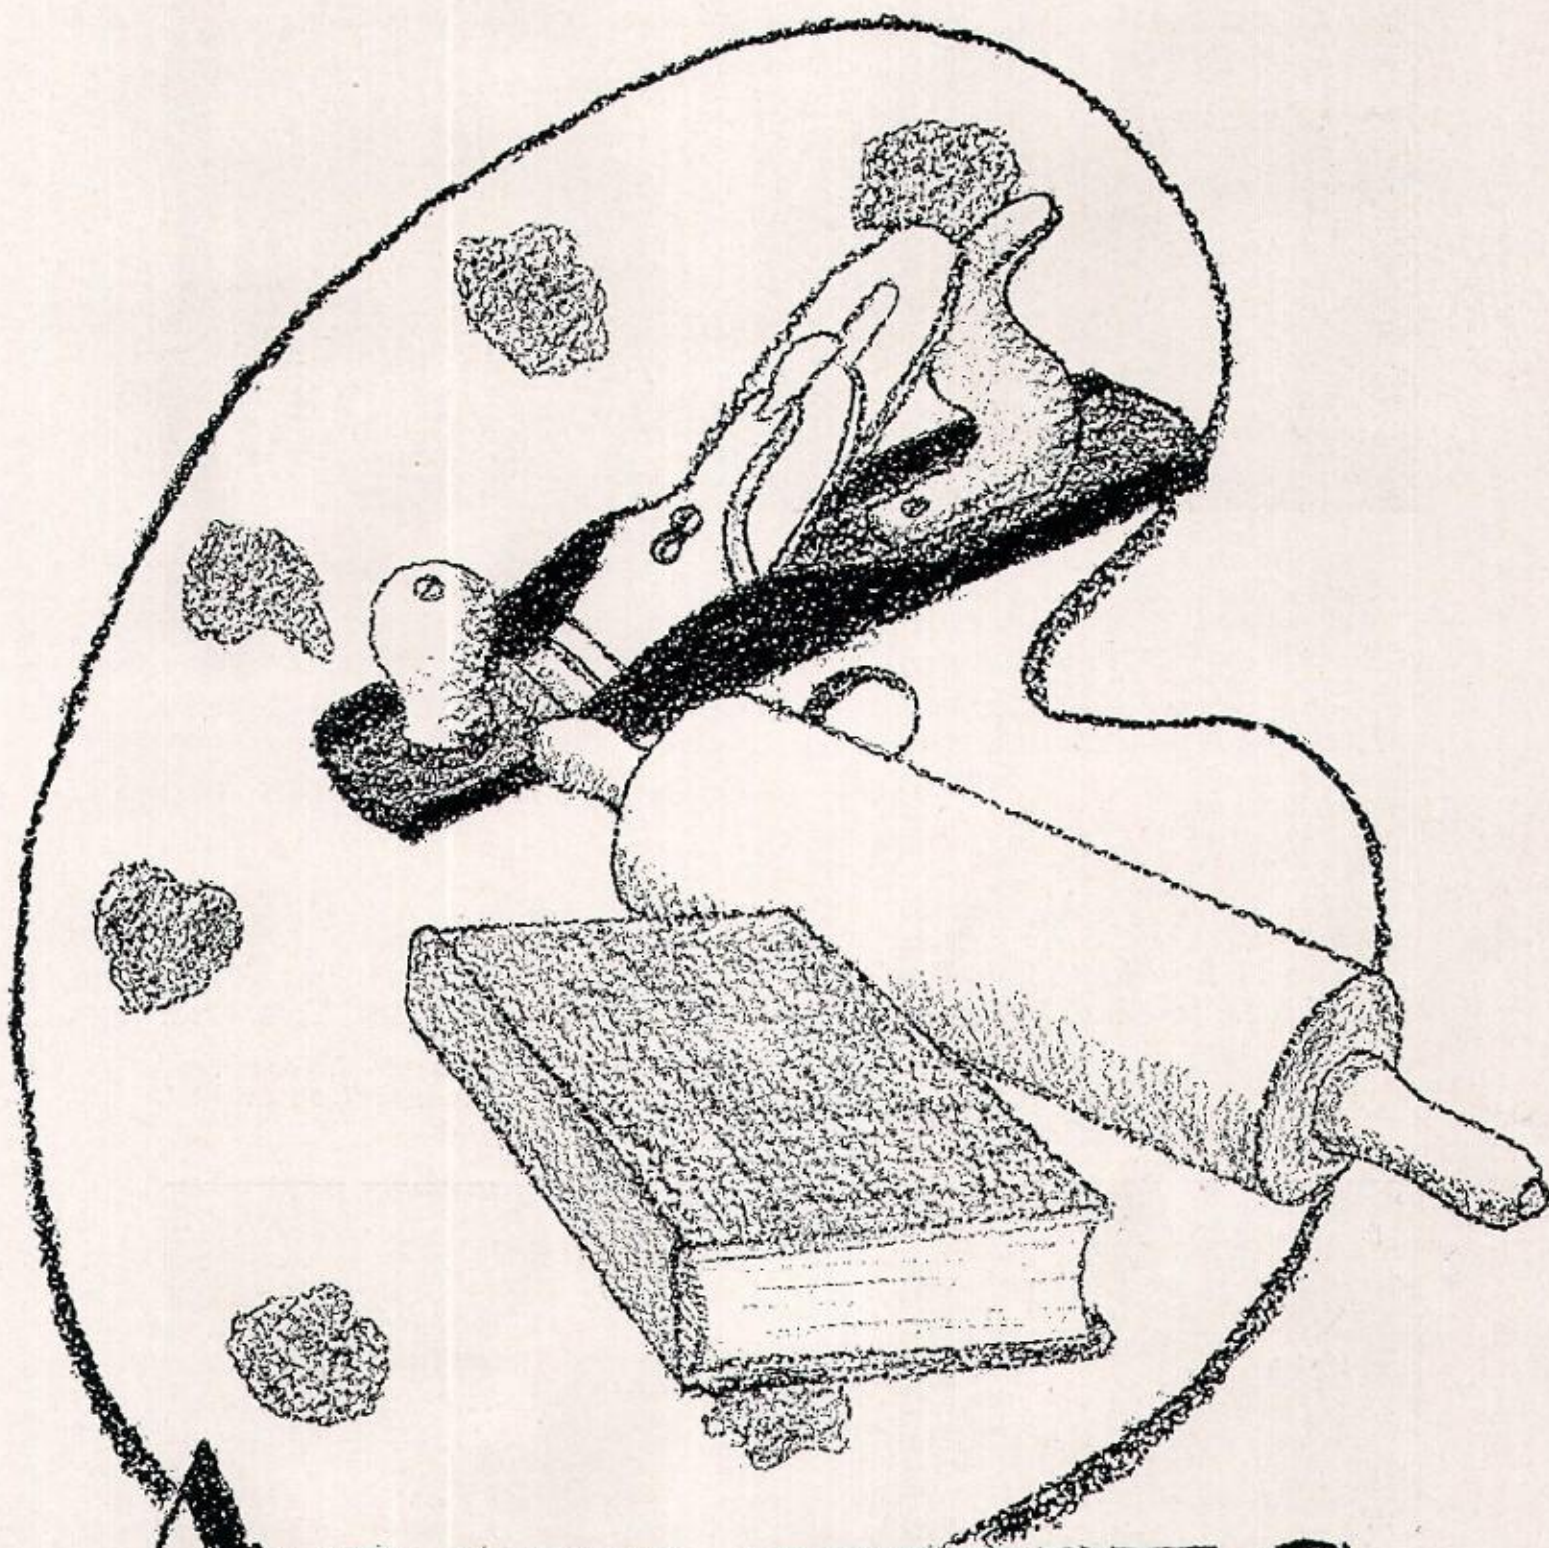

The janitor in the Shortsville building is Mr. Robyn. He has kept the building shining and clean and should be credited for his fine work.

CHARLES WYLIE . . . DAVID OWENS . . .

The two men responsible for the cleanliness and neatness of our school are Charles Wylie and his assistant, Dave Owens.

Standing—E. Schroo, B. VanOrman.

Honor Society . . .

Because of the close averages of these four people, they were all chosen to be on the Honor Society instead of being given the valedictory and salutatory honors. They are in alphabetical order: Robert Bologna, Carla Fabiana, Joan Overacre and Dorothy Verhoeven.

Others with outstanding averages and who are also on the National Honor Society are: Laura Aldrich, Winifred Fitzpatrick, Pauline Cianfoni, Ann O'Donnell, Ann Quick and Earl Schroo.

A great deal of credit should be accorded these students who have maintained their high averages throughout the four high-school years.

Senior Play . . .

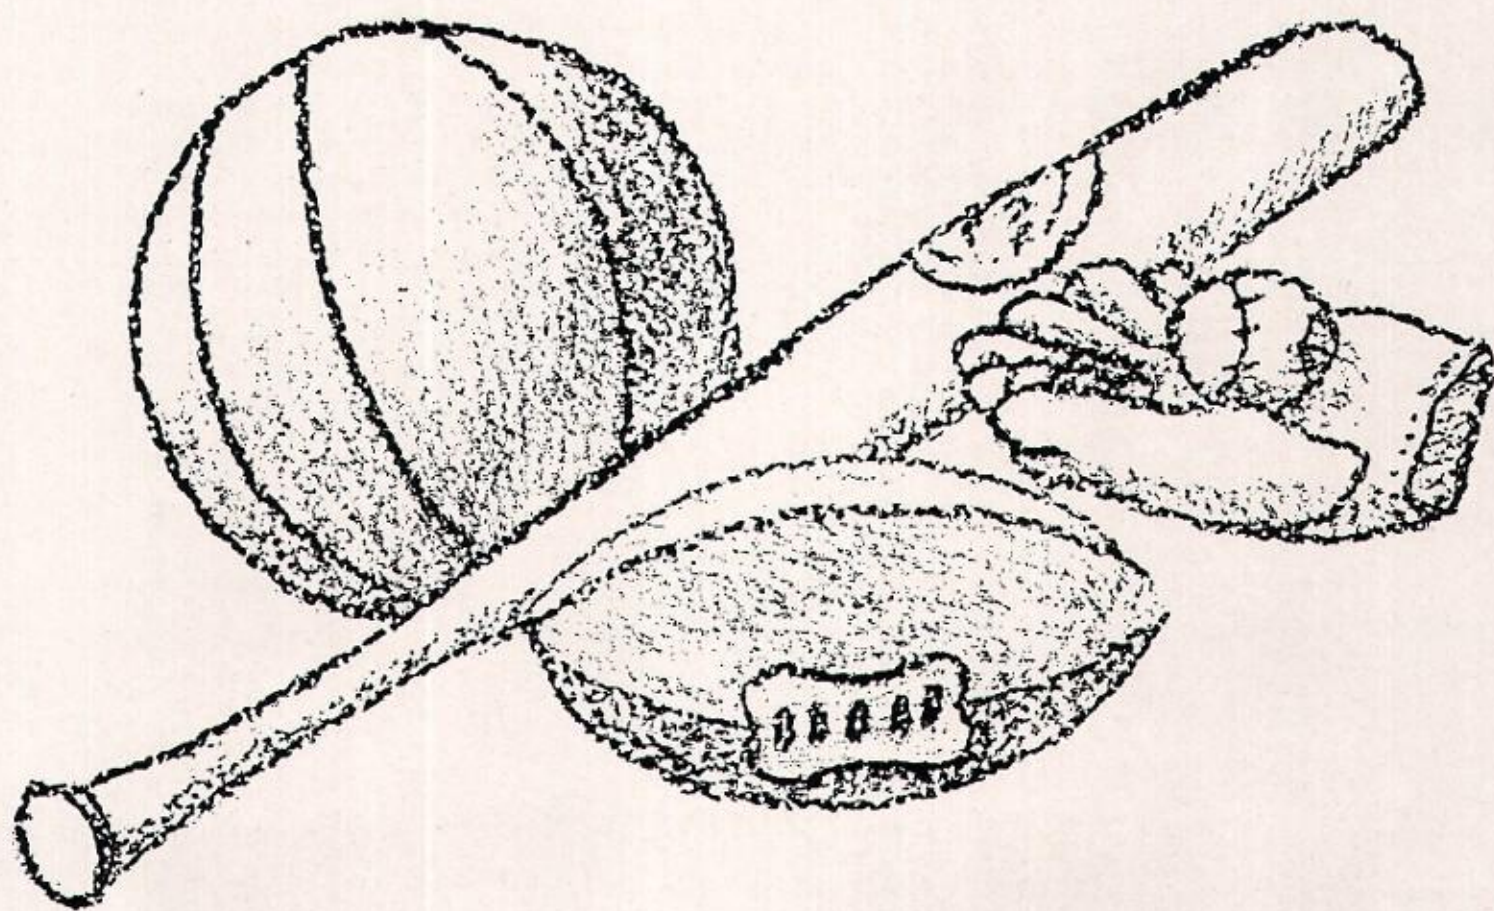

The Senior play presented by the Red Jacket Central School was "A Date With Judy," by Aleen Leslie. The cast was:

Judy Foster	Dorothy Verhoeven
Mr. Foster	David Owens
Mrs. Foster	Ethel DeVries
Randolph Foster	Jack O'Neill
Oogie Pringle	William Bolan

Mrs. Hotchkiss	Margaret Ciardi
Mrs. Schultzhammer	Ann O'Donnell
Hannah	Dolores Jarjoura

The play was held May 25 and 26, and since this book was sent to press previous to the play, no pictures were available

We would like to thank Mrs. Ruth Lamphier, our very capable director; Dawn Schlecht and Carla Fabiana, properties; Pauline Cianfoni, prompter; Nancy Capron and Margaret Lyke, make-up, and Donald Jessup, stage.

SPORTS

Varsity Basketball . . .

Second row—D. O'Donnell, H. Williams, J. Weaver, W. Hessney, L. Hayden, H. Robinson, S. Gwilt, H. Fish, H. Washburn.

The Red Jacket "Indians", under the capable coaching of Ed. Stackwick, captured the Finger Lakes B-C Basketball League title, with a record of 13 wins and 3 defeats.

After winning the first two games, the "Indians" were defeated by Gorham (37-35). A winning streak of ten games clinched the title for the high-scoring, aggressive "Indians."

At the completion of regular league play, the Red Jacket Central team entered the Section V Basketball tournament. A play-off game was played against Trumansburg, winner of the Lakes Region Class B title and the Shortsville-Manchester quint came out on top with a 56-49 victory. This qualified them for the quarter-finals games against Livonia at East Bloomfield, in which Livonia won (38-29). This same club went on to win the Class B Section V tournament.

This year's team will be remembered for bringing the first championship basketball team to the newly-centralized Red Jacket Central School.

Varsity Cheerleaders ...

Along with the larger centralized school, larger squads of Cheerleaders were chosen.

The Jayvee Cheerleaders had as their uniforms, white blouses, red jumpers, red beanies, white socks and white moccasins. Their favorite cheer was "Fight, Team, Fight."

The Varsity girls chose red and white sweaters and beanies, red skirts, red socks and white sneaks as their uniforms, and their favorite cheer was "Team That's on the Beam."

Second row—A. VanEtten, M. Newman, C. Gwilt.

TO PRODUCE TOP-QUALITY PRINTING
WE HAVE INSTALLED THE ...

New C & P Automatic Printing Press

• This press is one of the latest creations of the printing press manufacturers' art and is so new that the one in The Enterprise Press plant is the first one in the territory of the Buffalo distributor. • Made by the Chandler & Price Company, one of the oldest press manufacturers in the country, it contains all of the latest features. • With a top speed of 4800 printed sheets per hour, it permits us a larger output and better service in our commercial printing department. • Streamlined to the utmost, the C & P is finished like a new automobile . . in a gleaming two-toned grey enamel. • We would be pleased to show you this press if you would call.
